DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3 and 8 are rejected under 35 USC 102(b) as being anticipated by Sommerfeld et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,886,101).

Sommerfeld teaches articles that are formed from two polymer networks of different polymer materials. See col. 2, line 60 through col. 3, line 10 and col. 13, lines 45-47. For claims 1-3, in col. 12, line 3, Sommerfeld teaches preferred interpenetrating networks that include polyurethane/acrylic networks. Sommerfeld does not expressly teach that the articles are transparent. However, since the network taught by Sommerfeld contains the same polymers set forth by applicant in claims 2 and 3, the examiner's position is that articles produced from this network would inherently be transparent. Sommerfeld teaches that photochromic systems are employed and that dyes are added to the interpenetrating networks. Col. 15, lines 13-14 and col. 19, line 63.

Sommerfeld teaches that interpenetrating network is dispersed in a solvent in col. 2, line 66, the examiner's position is that the addition of photochromic dye to such a dispersion would inherently result in the dye being homogeneously distributed within the network. "[T]he PTO can require an applicant to prove that the prior art products do not necessarily or inherently possess the characteristics of his [or her] claimed product. Whether the rejection is based on inherency' under 35 U.S.C. 102, on prima facie obviousness' under 35 U.S.C. 103, jointly or alternatively, the burden of proof is the same...[footnote omitted]." The burden of proof is similar to that required with respect to product-by-process claims. In re Fitzgerald, 619 F. 2d 67, 70, 205 USPQ 594, 596 (CCPA 1980) (quoting In re Best, 562 F.2d 1252, 1255, 195 USPQ 430, 433-34 (CCPA 1977)).

For claim 8, Sommerfeld discloses that inorganic filler can be added. Col. 22, lines 49-52.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 4-7 are allowed. Sommerfeld is the closest prior art. The reference does not teach or suggest the method set forth in claim 4. Specifically, the reference does not teach a method for producing an IPN where a photochromic dye is added before or during polymerization. The dye is added after the polymerization occurs.

Conclusion

4. FR 2,674,539 is cited as an X reference on the international search report. However, this reference fails to teach or suggest an interpenetrating network of two different polymer materials as set forth in claims 1 and 4.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Soane et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,749,779) teaches gradient compositions for contact lenses including photochromic dyes. Therefore, the dyes are not homogeneously distributed within the IPN. Hill et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,674,942) teaches IPN's but no dye.
